He was a good and faithful servant who loved the Lord with all his mind, body, and soul. Charles always had a love for motorized vehicles. As a teenager, because of his driving skill and sense of responsibility for the students from his community, he became a school bus driver while attending Torrence Lytle High School in Huntersville, North Carolina. He retired from Consolidated in 2000, thus ending over 60 years of excellence and dedication to his profession. Charles was a man of many talents athletically. He was described by his peers as one of the greatest athletes to come out of the Davidson/Charlotte area. His family and friends still remember and tell great stories of his exploits on the football fields and baseball diamonds as a Torrence-Lytle High School student. He loved his family, his friends and his garden! People always said he had a green thumb. Boy, he could make anything grow. He loved to fish and hunt as any young man would living in an area as rich in natural beauty like ours. Music was also important to his well-being, and he shared that love with everyone he met. He was an also a gadget guy, he loved the newest technology and was always reading the numerous catalogs that came to the mailbox every day! Charles had a way about him. He was a great listener. Folks always talked about his kind ways of talking and how he put total attention to the other person. That's why when he spoke, he did so after much thought.
