“ You never know when a feeling may hit you Hugh. I guess I will never stop thinking about you. Never will I stop thinking of you. I so wish you you were here. It's amazing to me that I still love you so much. Not that I thought that would go way but I still love you. I am at a place now where I can say I am starting to think about when I will see you again and not that I lost you. This struggle is real and all I want is peace until I can here you say "What's up Dad" Man those words they meant and mean so much to me. Love you always my son.

Your Father!!!!

“ To my son,

Constant are my thoughts of you and my words are unable to express all the things that stir inside of me since the day we put you to rest. I thought, a prayer, I find myself speaking to you aloud but no response while absolutely nothing could fill this silent space. Now in my heart there was hole in the shape of you! Until I see you again all I can do is fill that place with tears and laughter, with joy and pain, with memories that are never estranged. There are rare times that I can even look at your picture right now! Maybe my urge to look away is more than just because I am grieving. It may be that I need to move forward just enough to say that missing you is simply that and a little more pain needs to go away. So I don't expect that hole to ever be filled solid as before but one day it will be whole enough to truly allow me to say.....This place I'm at is also love my son....the place where a man goes to cry alone knowing that the sun still shines bright for his child..... despite the death of his first born.

Love you always

Your father, your friend .

“ There are no words to express how sad and broken hearted I was when I was told that one of my students Hugh has gone on the a better home. I knew him as an excellent student and an outstanding citizen. I will forever keep you all in my prayers.

Sincerely, Lorrane Edwards (Greenforest Christian Academy- Decatur, Ga.)

“ My deepest condolences go out to your family. May the God of comfort give you peace as you reflect on the many promises contained in his written word, such as John 5:28 that promises that Jesus will call those in the memorial tombs to come out. And what a joy to return to the life that is promise at Rev. 21:3, 4 where tears, death, mourning, and pain will be no more.

“ For my sister and her family,

*I thought of you and closed my eyes,
And prayed to God today.
I asked what makes a Mother,
And I know I heard him say:
A mother has a baby,
This we know is true.
But, God, can you be a mother,
When your baby's not with you?
Yes, you can he replied,
With confidence in his voice.
I give many women babies,
When they leave is not their choice.
Some I send for a lifetime,
And others for a day.
And some I send to feel your womb,
But there's no need to stay.
I just don't understand this God,
I want my baby here.
He took a breath and cleared his throat,
And then I saw a tear.
I wish that I could show you,
What your child is doing today,
If you could see your child smile,
With other children who say:
We go to earth and learn our lessons,
Of love and life and fear.
My mommy loved me oh so much,
I got to come straight here.
I feel so lucky to have a mom,
Who had so much love for me.
I learned my lessons very quickly,
My mommy set me free.
I miss my mommy oh so much,
But I visit her each day.*

*When she goes to sleep,
On her pillow's where I lay.
I stroke her hair and kiss her cheek,
And whisper in her ear.
"Mommy don't be sad today, I'm your baby and I'm here."
So you see my dear sweet one,
Your children are Ok.
Your babies are here in My home,
They'll be at heaven's gate for you.
So now you see what makes a mother.
It's the feeling in your heart.
It's the love you had so much of,
Right from the very start.

“ There are no words sweet, Hugh...KB and I will miss you looking out for the "little kids" while we had our sleepovers with you, Aunt MeMe and Caleb. We are going to miss you so much and promise that we are going to take good care of your mom and brother just like you did. When people plant flowers in their gardens and are ready to prepare a beautiful bouquet, they do not go out and pull flowers that are not ready. They gather the most vibrant, most fragrant, most beautiful ones to complete the nosegay. We wanted you here, but your precious, Heavenly Father needed you more to add to his garden. Sweet dreams dear heart.

Love,
Aunt Tee Tee

“ My thoughts and prayers are with you during this time. Hugh (my nephew) was one of the brightest and bravest little boys that I know. The love he had for his family and others was immeasurable and endless. I do and will always miss he dearly and will remember hearing him tell me "I'm alright, are you alright, I not afraid". You are a winner. Love you Hughey.....Aunt Tasha
