“ To Gail Johnson and family I am truly sorry for your lost of your father James porter. Although I could not attend the funeral you were in my thought and prayers. Loosing a love one in death is always hard to deal with. The scriptures gives us some relief and as time passes the sorrow of pain lessons. We have so much more to hold on to for the scriptures read as Revelation 21:3,4 tells us that resurrection will take place and death will be no more what a joyful event to look forward too. Gail you have my love and I hope that time will comfort you and your love ones Love Cathy
