“ No amount of words can express how I am feeling. When I moved to Charlotte, you were the first friends God sent to me. I know that HE had you first..I have accepted that HE wanted you back. I want to thank God for allowing me to know his ANGEL. I appreciate the recent talks, laughs and conversations. I am reminded that HIS eye is on the Sparrow, and I know YOU are watching over ME.
To the family: Thank you for having a wonderful flower to share with me. Here is a poem that was given to me at the loss of my loved one, I give to you in this time: Be Blessed! Don't cry at my grave cause I won't be there. I'll be in the breeze that ruffles your hair, I'll be in the sunshine I'll be in the snow, I'll be in the places that we use to go. I'll be in your shadow and there in your dreams. I'll be in your greetings but not your goodbyes. I'll be in the reflection of your loving eyes. I'll always be with you and I'll always care. Don't cry at my grave side cause I won't be there.
