

Johnnie B. Spikes Jr.

January 23, 1973 - June 3, 2025

Johnnie B. Spikes was born on January 23, 1973, in Cleveland, Ohio, to Johnny Butler and Patricia Spikes. He graduated from Garinger High School in 1991, where he excelled as an athlete. After completing high school, he pursued further studies at Barber Scotia College in Concord, North Carolina. Johnny had nearly 20-year tenure at GM Financial, where he demonstrated exceptional passion and knowledge in his role, earning positive reviews and fostering strong relationships with his peers. In 1997, while working at a local restaurant, he met his future wife, Pamela Crowder-Spikes, with whom he shared 21 years of marriage and two sons, Matthew Joseph and Jamarcus Allen Crowder. As a devoted family man, Johnny was often referred to as "Top Flight Security" for his dedication to protecting and caring for his loved ones, neighbors, and friends. With a deep passion for sports and authenticity, Johnny imparted valuable life lessons to his sons, emphasizing the importance of making informed choices. He cherished his family, particularly his wife, sons, and grandchildren, Alani Sebastian, Levi, and Sage, who affectionately called him JJ. Johnny is survived by his wife, Pamela Crowder-Spikes; sons, Matthew and Jamarcus; grandchildren, Alani Sebastian, Levi, and Sage; mother, Patricia Shrewsberry; stepfather and best friend, Larry Shrewsberry; sisters, Patrina Spikes, Maryann Jordan, and Debbie Washington; mother-in-law, Mattie Crowder; sister-in-law, Cathy Burch aka Sister Girl; and brother-in-law, A'Carlos Hough. As a member of Central Church, Johnny actively participated in marriage enrichment activities, fostering lifelong relationships with his brothers in faith and their wives. His commitment to his faith community had a lasting impact. Johnny's love for the Lord brought comfort to those around him, as he often expressed his confidence in his eternal destination, saying, "If I were to pass away, I know where I'm going, and that gives us peace." Johnny was a lover of his home team the Cleveland Browns, the Los Angeles Lakers and the Michigan Wolverines!
