

Marion Delorese Hemphill

January 25, 1959 - September 3, 2024

Marion Delorese Hemphill was born on January 25, 1959, in North Carolina and passed away peacefully on September 3, 2024, at Novant Health Presbyterian Medical Center, following a year-long illness. The youngest child of William Hemphill and Bobbie Gill Hemphill, Marion was known for her warmth, kindness, and deep love for her family. She was preceded in death by her parents, her sister Mary Alice Green, and her brother William Henry Hemphill, Jr. Marion was a lifelong member of Greater Mount Moriah Primitive Baptist Church and attended schools within the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School system. While she achieved much professionally, her true legacy lies in the love and care she extended to all who knew her. Marion had a special way of making everyone feel appreciated, and she deeply cherished her children, grandchildren, sisters, brothers, nieces, nephews, cousins, and many close friends. Her devotion was especially evident in the way she lovingly cared for her brother, James Hemphill, until her final days. She is survived by her children, Deundra Hemphill of Washington, DC, and Nikia Hemphill of North Carolina; her grandchildren, Bobby, Matthew, and Jacob, all of Washington, DC, and Hayden and Miles of North Carolina. Marion also leaves behind her loving sisters, Docia Randolph, Veronica Hemphill, and Margaret Hemphill, all of Maryland, Joyce Lindsey of North Carolina, and Vivian Hemphill of Texas; and her adoring brothers, Bennie Hemphill, James Hemphill, Ronald Hemphill, and Woodard Hemphill, all of North Carolina. She is also fondly remembered by her closest friend, Annie Wilson, who was like a sister to her, as well as Ronald Coleman, Jr., who affectionately called her “Mother Hemphill” and whom she called her “son from another mother.” Marion’s two special nieces, Kai Lindsey and Deja Hemphill, whom she loved like daughters, also held a dear place in her heart. Marion’s enduring legacy of love, kindness, and devotion will forever be cherished by all who had the privilege of knowing and loving her.

“ I've known and dearly loved my great sister-friend Marion for 6 decades! We grew up together in Greater Mount Moriah P.B. Church. Her CRAZY infectious laugh I can still hear. NO one had a laugh like Marion! We were inseparable in both our pre and teenage years! Marion drove Ronald's car more than he did and always scooped up myself and Audrey Johnson. What a ton of memorable moments God has blessed me to have! All through school from elementary until graduation... we truly had a ball! Good clean fun! Most youth today don't experience. Rest on my beloved sister-friend, I will see you again! I love you forever!
