“ Ms. Miller was a trusted and competent colleague. We worked together in the special education separate classes, and she had a wonderful relationship with her students. I observed her to be professional and caring as she delivered her lessons. Pat and I used to collaborate often on our mutual students. She had a good sense of humor. I enjoyed her laughter, honesty, and thoughtfulness. She worked together as often as possible to provide the educational needs for our students. Most of all I will miss her companionship. Pat you will be missed.
