She also leaves behind thirteen grandchildren, eighteen great-grandchildren, and a host of nieces, nephews, relatives, and friends who will forever cherish her love and memory.

Sadie, a member of Life Giving Church of God of Concord, North Carolina, graduated from Aggrey Memorial School and later retired from Charlotte-Mecklenburg Schools, where she served as a dedicated teacher's aide. Her final professional years were spent at US Airways in the Utility Department, where she brought her same spirit of diligence and kindness.

Sadie had an undeniable love for life and an adventurous spirit that led her to travel and experience the world with joy and curiosity. Known for her serious commitment to family, she was the heartbeat of every gathering—the one who hosted and cooked for holidays, ensuring family traditions lived on. Her home was always open, her table always full, and her heart always giving.

Her love for music and celebration brought people together, and her laughter filled every room she entered. As a wife, mother, sister, and friend, she embodied grace, strength, and compassion. Sadie's bond with her siblings was unbreakable—their unity and love stood as a model for what family truly means.

Beyond her family life, Sadie played a pivotal role in the Civil Rights Movement, particularly in Georgia, where her courage and leadership helped bring about meaningful change across the South. She was known for marching in Savannah, GA, and even hosting “chitlin parties” to raise funds to bail out protestors—showing both her creativity and her unwavering commitment to justice and equality.

Sadie Mayfield's life was a beautiful testament to love, service, and faith. Her legacy will continue to live on in the hearts of all who knew her.

“ It was a pleasure taking care of Sadie while working at Clear creek. She was a ball of fun and always fashionable. She loved to wear jewelry and look her best. One of my fondest memories was when we would sit outside sometimes. We’d have random talks about how much she loved to cook and how she loved her children. She was my favorite resident and I will always cherish the moments I had with her! I know she’s in heaven smiling down on everyone who loved her with that beautiful smile. Inga, you held your mom down until the end and she loved you for that! Thank you for sharing Sadie Mae with us ❤️

It was truly an honor taking care of Sadie while working at Clear Creek. She was the sweetest and funniest lady, and she always knew how to brighten my day. She’d make me laugh every time she’d tell me she wanted “some chicken and enough cake,” and those little moments are ones I’ll never forget.

Sadie was my favorite resident, and I’ll always cherish the time I spent with her—her kindness, her humor, and the way she could make anyone smile. I know she’s in heaven shining just as bright as ever.

You all loved your Mom so well, and not a day went by that she didn’t know that. Thank you for sharing Sadie Mae with us. ☐
